UNDERSTANDING THE 17 DAY DIET AND THE IMPORTANCE OF CYCLE 1

The 17 Day Diet, created by Dr. Mike Moreno, is a structured eating plan designed to jumpstart weight loss by cycling through four distinct phases. Each phase lasts for 17 days, hence the name. The first cycle, known as the Accelerate phase, is widely considered the most critical. It is designed to help your body flush out stored sugars and excess water weight while dramatically reducing carbohydrate intake. During this initial phase, the body shifts into a state where it begins to burn fat for fuel, which can lead to rapid and encouraging early results.

One of the biggest challenges people face when starting this diet is understanding exactly what they can and cannot eat. Having a clear 17 Day Diet Food List Cycle 1 on hand is essential for staying on track. This guide provides a complete, detailed breakdown of the approved foods, the rationale behind the choices, and practical tips for making the first 17 days as effective and manageable as possible. Whether you are a beginner or need a refresher, this article will serve as your definitive resource for navigating the Accelerate phase with confidence.

WHAT IS CYCLE 1 (ACCELERATE)?

The primary goal of Cycle 1 is to initiate rapid weight loss by resetting your metabolism. This phase is deliberately low in carbohydrates and sugars. By eliminating high-glycemic fruits, starches, and grains, your body is forced to tap into its glycogen stores. When glycogen is depleted, the body turns to stored fat for energy. This metabolic shift is often accompanied by a significant drop in water weight, which is why many people report losing several pounds within the first week.

Beyond weight loss, Cycle 1 also helps to curb cravings. By stabilizing blood sugar levels through a focus on lean proteins and fiber-rich vegetables, you are less likely to experience the energy crashes that lead to unhealthy snacking. The structure provided by the 17 Day Diet Food List Cycle 1 removes the guesswork, making it easier to adhere to the plan. It is a strict phase, but its short duration makes it manageable, and the results are often highly motivating.

THE COMPLETE 17 DAY DIET FOOD LIST CYCLE 1

Below is a comprehensive list of foods that are approved during Cycle 1. These foods are chosen to maximize fat burning, support lean muscle mass, and provide essential nutrients without spiking insulin levels.

Lean Proteins

Protein is the cornerstone of Cycle 1. It helps preserve muscle mass during weight loss, keeps you feeling full longer, and has a high thermic effect (meaning your body burns calories digesting it). You should include a serving of lean protein at every meal.

- Skinless Poultry: Chicken breast and turkey breast (white meat only, no skin).
- Fish and Seafood: Salmon, cod, tuna (packed in water), tilapia, shrimp, scallops, and mackerel. Fatty fish like salmon are excellent due to their omega-3 content.
- Lean Cuts of Red Meat: Sirloin steak, flank steak, and extra-lean ground beef (95% lean or higher).
- Pork: Pork loin or tenderloin, trimmed of visible fat.
- Eggs: Whole eggs are permitted, but it is recommended to include egg whites more often. For example, one whole egg plus two egg whites is a common serving suggestion.
- Deli Meats: Low-sodium, nitrate-free turkey or chicken breast (look for options without added sugars).

Vegetables (The "Green Light" Vegetables)

Non-starchy vegetables are the other major component of Cycle 1. They are low in calories and carbohydrates but high in fiber, water, and micronutrients. You are encouraged to eat generous portions of these vegetables. They can be raw, steamed, roasted, or grilled. Use approved seasonings and a small amount of healthy oil.

- Leafy Greens: Spinach, kale, romaine lettuce, arugula, Swiss chard, collard greens, and mixed salad greens.
- Cruciferous Vegetables: Broccoli, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, and bok choy.
- Other Non-Starchy Options: Asparagus, green beans, celery, cucumber, zucchini, yellow squash, bell peppers (all colors), mushrooms, onions, garlic, tomatoes, and okra.

Approved Fruits (Limited Selection)

Fruit is not entirely eliminated in Cycle 1, but the selection is restricted to those low in sugar and high in fiber. These fruits help manage sugar cravings without derailing ketosis. You are typically allowed two servings per day.

- Berries: Strawberries, blueberries, raspberries, and blackberries are excellent choices.
- Citrus: Grapefruit and lemon (lemon can be used in water or on salads).
- Other Options: Green apples (Granny Smith) are a good choice due to their lower sugar content compared to other apple varieties.

Probiotics and Dairy

Probiotics are encouraged in Cycle 1 to support gut health, which is linked to improved metabolism and digestion. Dairy is limited to low-fat, low-sugar options.

- Plain Nonfat Greek Yogurt: Rich in protein and probiotics. Avoid any yogurt with added fruit or sugar.
- Low-Fat Kefir: A fermented milk drink that is a potent source of probiotics. Choose plain, unsweetened varieties.
- Cottage Cheese: Low-fat or nonfat cottage cheese is permitted in moderation.

Healthy Fats (In Moderation)

While Cycle 1 is low in carbohydrates, it is not fat-free. Healthy fats are essential for hormone production, vitamin absorption, and satiety. They must be used sparingly, however.

- Olive Oil: Extra virgin olive oil is the preferred oil for dressings and light cooking.
- Flaxseed Oil: Often used in salad dressings for its omega-3 content.
- Nuts and Seeds: A very small handful of almonds, walnuts, or sunflower seeds is allowed as a snack.
- Avocado: Limited to one-quarter of an avocado per day.

Herbs, Spices, and Condiments

Flavor is important for adherence. Many herbs and spices are naturally calorie-free and carbohydrate-free. Be cautious with condiments, as many contain hidden sugars.

- Approved Herbs and Spices: All dried and fresh herbs (basil, oregano, parsley, cilantro, dill, mint, rosemary, thyme). Spices such as cinnamon, cumin, paprika, turmeric, chili powder, black pepper, and garlic powder.
- Approved Condiments: Mustard (yellow and Dijon), apple cider vinegar, balsamic vinegar (use sparingly), hot sauce (check for no added sugar), salsa (fresh, no sugar added), and low-sodium soy sauce or tamari (use sparingly).

Approved Beverages

Staying hydrated is critical during Cycle 1. Water helps flush out toxins and supports metabolism.

- Water: Aim for at least 8-10 glasses per day. Sparkling water (plain) is also permitted.
- Green Tea: Rich in antioxidants and can slightly boost metabolism. It is highly encouraged.
- Herbal Tea: Unsweetened herbal teas (peppermint, chamomile, ginger) are allowed.
- Black Coffee: Permitted in moderation (1-2 cups per day). Avoid adding sugar or cream. A splash of unsweetened almond milk or a small amount of nonfat milk is acceptable.

FOODS TO AVOID IN CYCLE 1

Equally important as knowing what to eat is knowing what to avoid. The following foods are strictly prohibited during the Accelerate phase because they would interfere with the metabolic shift that the diet aims to achieve.

- All Grains and Starches: Bread, pasta, rice, oats, quinoa, barley, corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, and any other grain-based products.
- Sugary Fruits: Bananas, grapes, mangoes, pineapples, cherries, dried fruits, and fruit juices.
- Sweets and Added Sugars: Candy, cookies, cakes, ice cream, soda, sweetened teas, agave syrup, honey, maple syrup, and artificial sweeteners (with the exception of stevia in small amounts).
- High-Fat Meats: Bacon, sausage, fatty cuts of beef, and processed meats like salami or pepperoni.
- Full-Fat Dairy: Whole milk, cream, regular cheese, and full-fat yogurt.
- Legumes: Beans, lentils, chickpeas, and peanuts (peanuts are legumes, not nuts).
- Alcohol: All alcoholic beverages are prohibited during Cycle 1.

PRACTICAL TIPS FOR FOLLOWING THE 17 DAY DIET FOOD LIST CYCLE 1

Knowing the list is the first step, but implementing it into your daily life requires strategy. Here are several practical tips to help you succeed during the first 17 days.

Plan Your Meals in Advance

Meal planning is non-negotiable for success on this diet. Set aside time each week to plan your breakfast, lunch, dinner, and snacks based on the approved foods. Having a plan prevents last-minute decisions that could lead to a slip-up. Batch cooking proteins like grilled chicken breast or hard-boiled eggs can save significant time during the week.

Learn to Build a Balanced Plate

A standard Cycle 1 meal should consist of a generous serving of lean protein (about the size of your palm), a large portion of non-starchy vegetables (at least half your plate), and a small serving of approved fruit or healthy fat. This combination provides satiety and ensures you are getting a variety of nutrients.

Manage Cravings Smartly

Cravings for sugar and starches are common in the first few days. Drinking a large glass of water with lemon, having a cup of green tea, or eating a small handful of berries can help. Often, cravings are a sign of dehydration or boredom rather than true hunger. The 17 Day Diet Food List Cycle 1 is designed to help your body move past these cravings relatively quickly, usually within 3-5 days.

Watch Portion Sizes of Nuts and Oils

Even healthy fats are calorie-dense. While nuts and olive oil are allowed, they should be used sparingly. A serving of nuts is about one ounce (a small handful), and a serving of oil is one tablespoon. Measuring these foods at the beginning can help you develop a better eye for appropriate portions.

SAMPLE ONE-DAY MENU FOR CYCLE 1

To give you a concrete idea of what a day on Cycle 1 looks like, here is a sample menu based on the 17 Day Diet Food List Cycle 1.

- Breakfast: Two scrambled eggs (one whole egg, one egg white) cooked in a teaspoon of olive oil, with a large handful of spinach stirred in. Served with a side of 1/2 grapefruit.
- Mid-Morning Snack: 1/2 cup of plain nonfat Greek yogurt with a few raspberries.
- Lunch: Large salad with grilled chicken breast, mixed greens, cucumber, bell peppers, and a simple
